Editorial Review

Review

Paramhansa Yogananda was sent to the West by Jesus Christ himself, to bring back "Original Christianity." This book contains the basic divine message of the Gospels: the "Good News" that all of us are the children of God, not of Satan, and must eventually come to know Him. -- Neale Donald Walsch, 05/01/07

Reading Revelations of Christ is like having a dialog with our Creator about the meaning of Jesus' life, actions and teaching.... -- Bernie Siegel, MD author of 365 Prescriptions For The Soul, 5/14/07

Simply marvelous....The profundity and lucidity of this book acts like a clear mirror, reflecting the greatness of Christ's teaching as proclaimed by Paramhansa Yogananda. -- Swami Nikhilananda Saraswati, Head of the Chinmaya Mission, New Delhi, India

Swami Kriyananda....unshackles Christ from the confines of dogmatic religion....In an age of religious rancor this is great medicine. -- James O'Dea, President, The Institute of Noetic Sciences

This is a wonderful book for people who want to understand the similarities between the spiritual teachings of east and west; of Christianity and Hinduism. This book offers Christians a deeper understanding of the teachings of yoga and likewise gives Hindus a more in-depth approach to Christianity. -- Terry Cole-Whittaker D.D., Founder of Adventures in Enlightenment and author of Dare to be Great, 5/4/07

From the Publisher

How is one to understand the life and teachings of the great master Jesus, whose title "the Christ" meant the "anointed of God"? Tradition offers us two approaches: one, the authority of the Church; the other, that of historical analysis, which Christian scholars lately have been applying to certain recently discovered texts.

There is another approach, less widely known but more reliable than any other: It is to study the writings and sayings of, or better still to live with and study under, saints who have communed directly, in deep states of ecstasy, with Christ and God. Such persons are true spiritual masters. They have lived in every country, and have belonged to every religion and every social level. They have taught the Truth from their own deep realization. When they've been free to speak out, their impact has been widespread and profound. Often, unfortunately, freedom of speech has been denied them; they've had to submit to the control of religious superiors, who considered their own authority a supreme right bestowed on them by God.

From the Inside Flap

A great spiritual master came from India, commissioned by Jesus Christ himself, to bring back "Original Christianity."

The "good news" of the Gospels is that we are all children of God and can ourselves know God.

What this book reveals:

Jesus, son of man, was a separate reality from Jesus, Son of God.

Though in essence both were one, Jesus, "son of man," had a delightful, if understated, sense of humor. No "man of sorrows," he was joyful, magnetic, and expressed himself with color and courage. He was the ideal human being, showing people their own divine potential, which is the underlying truth of all Creation. He urged us all, therefore, to aspire to "become as perfect as God," (Matthew 5:48) showing by example that soul-joy is our eternal birthright, and that, therefore Satan can be overcome.
